

The Columbus Dispatch

Answers

Tuesday, August 24, 2010 06:05 PM

The Columbus Dispatch

1. a.

A gong would summon a beautiful woman, called a Mystery Girl, who would bring forward a drink. The drink came in a massive bowl with a smoking volcano built into the middle.

2. b.

It's a group of 1,000 islands in the southern Pacific Ocean. Hawaii is included in the northern tip of the region.

3. a.

The Grass Shack burned down 50 years ago, and the owners built the Kahiki in its place.

4. a.

Moai is the name of the stone heads found on Easter Island. The originals were carved between 1250 and 1500.

5. d.

All of the above made the Kahiki an interesting place.

6. a.

It's a frozen food company based in Gahanna.

7. b.

Bill Sapp and Lee Henry started the Kahiki. Michael Tsao was the restaurant's final owner. He launched the Kahiki's frozen foods business. Alan Hoover is the company's current president and said he never was an adventurous eater until Tsao threw him a Hawaiian shirt and started dragging him around to tasty Asian eateries. John Holt is a collector who owns one of the restaurant's giant Moai heads.

8. d.

A beef tenderloin stuffed with cheese and crab meat. It was popular even at $19.95, but it wasn't practical as a frozen entree.

9. a.

It was on the National Register of Historic Places, an honor that didn't save it from demolition.

10. d.

Walgreens wanted to buy the land.

Source: Kahiki

Recommend 1

---

 Where Columbus goes for news.	Subscribe to The Dispatch and SAVE! <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Every day - Save 25% off the retail price</li><li>• Thur-Sun - Save 20% off the retail price</li><li>• Sunday - An average of over $200 in coupons each week!</li></ul> Click here to start your subscription.
--	---

Already a subscriber? Enroll in EZPay and get a free gift! Enroll now

---

©2010, The Columbus Dispatch, Reproduction prohibited